

Our Mission

Members of the Global Medical Technology Alliance (GMTA) support the objectives of providing safe, effective and innovative medical technology that saves and enhances lives, benefiting people and society. GMTA is a forum in which members exchange information and jointly develop and advocate policies that encourage innovation to address patients' health care needs.

Our Beginnings

GMTA began as an informal network in the 1990s to develop and disseminate information pertaining to medical technology policies and issues on a global basis. Formally established in 2010, GMTA became a legal entity in Switzerland in 2013 and was subsequently recognized by the World Health Organization in 2015.
